Installation

KONE shall commence the installation after the materials arrive at the job site and upon intimation from you that the site is ready as per the approved GAD. If the site is not ready for any reason for taking up installation, KONE shall deploy installation team upon receipt of your written confirmation of site readiness as required by us. KONE need minimum eight weeks advance information to depute our personnel. KONE may have to reschedule the erection program if the readiness of the site is inordinately delayed.

In such an event, PURCHASER shall pay additional cost arising on account of such delay.

Completion period promised would be deemed to have been fulfilled, if the Elevator is presented for the first inspection after completing all the work on or before the promised date. The time taken to rectify any defects or adjustments during and after the inspection shall be construed as extension.

as per safety rules, stairs provided with handrails, cover any open holes etc.,

The PURCHASER shall be liable for all damages suffered by KONE and/or other persons, due to unsafe site conditions.

Warranty and Training

tendered. These would be manufactured strictly in accordance with our drawings, designs or requirements and would undergo the same rigid inspection. KONE undertake full responsibility for the quality of the materials and equipment supplied.

The PURCHASER shall at the time of handing over ensure complete usage of the Elevator and acknowledge that the Elevator has been handed over by KONE and accepted by the PURCHASER in full working condition without any defect or malfunction.

Handing Over

1. PURCHASER shall agree to take over the Elevator as soon as the installation is completed after making the final payment as per the terms of the contract and officially acknowledge the handing over of Elevator

2. KONE shall give PURCHASER a week's notice for taking over of the Elevator after completion.

3. The Inspection of the Elevator by the authorities of the Lift Inspectorate, wherever applicable, will have to be done prior to handing over of Elevator. KONE shall assist in the inspection of the Elevator/s by the authorities of the Lift Inspectorate, wherever applicable. The responsibility of obtaining Lift license shall be with the PURCHASER, before putting the Elevator into usage.

4. Warranty will start from the time of handing over per Elevator on prorata basis.

5. PURCHASER shall not use the Elevator/s prior to handing over and shall be liable for all damages and loss due to such unauthorized usage.

The Elevator shall be given for beneficial use only on completion of the above terms.

Notwithstanding the above, even after KONE's express intention to handover the Elevator/s, if for any reason, PURCHASER has not taken over the Elevator/s, KONE reserves the right to treat that the handing over of the Elevator has been completed.

Elevator handing over will be deemed to have been completed regardless of availability of permanent power supply

- a. 18 months from date of dispatch of the last of the following major components namely 1) machine, 2) controller, 3) car and car frame, 4) "T" Guides.
- b. 12 months from date of handing over of the Elevator on prorata basis
- c. 12 months from the expiry of a week's notice from the notice of handing over.

Which ever is earlier.

The Warranty given by KONE shall lapse on completion of the Warranty period. However this Warranty does not cover defects due to depreciation, wear and tear, accidents, lightning, dampness, neglect, misuse, power fluctuations or other abnormal conditions resulting directly or indirectly due to circumstances beyond the control of KONE.

Any energy consumption saving potential when indicated is estimated but the real-life values may vary depending on the actual conditions. KONE does not accept any liability for possible differences between the actual and estimated savings

Personnel Training

After completion of handing over, the PURCHASER shall nominate maximum of two persons who will be responsible for handling of the Elevator/s. Such persons would be trained by our Installation Engineer

The training can be terminated by us without notice, if in KONE's opinion, conduct of persons nominated by you is detrimental to the interest of KONE. The above are also contingent on your accepting complete responsibility for your personnel

Rescue Training

As a part of supply and installation KONE intends to provide basic training to PURCHASER with respect to rescuing passengers entrapped in elevators under certain limited circumstances.

Maintenance

This contract includes free maintenance for 12 months. The period of free maintenance will be deemed to have commenced on the date the Elevator handing over; The date of commencement of this service will remain unchanged irrespective of any delay in building completion, availability of permanent power supply, taking over or commencing use of the Elevator.

Maintenance will consist of regular examinations, any necessary adjustment and lubrication of the equipment by a one-time exercise free of cost at the time of handing over the elevator for any two of the representatives nominated by the PURCHASER. Subsequent training required to be provided by KONE at any future point of time shall be chargeable on a mutually agreeable basis.

After providing training, KONE and PURCHASER shall record the fact of having provided such basic training in the format prescribed by KONE. This shall include the names and positions of the PURCHASER's employees / representatives, who have participated in the said training. KONE shall always keep the determining record of who has participated in the training.

The PURCHASER or its representative who has been so trained can thereafter engage in rescuing passengers entrapped in an elevator using solely the methods as trained by KONE.

The PURCHASER or its representatives acknowledge and understand that they shall not engage in rescue operations for which they are not trained and shall not attempt to rescue any persons following processes, other than those for which they have been trained by KONE.

The training shall be valid only till the Defect Liability Period.

PURCHASER hereby voluntarily release, forever discharge and agree to indemnify and hold harmless KONE, its directors, officers, employees, agents, subcontractors, volunteers and all other persons or entities acting in any capacity on behalf of KONE from any and all liability, claims, demands or causes of action which may be in any way connected with the participation of the PURCHASER and/or its representatives in the training activity including all such claims which allege negligent acts or omissions of KONE.

It is specifically agreed that the training provided by KONE shall not absolve the PURCHASER or its representatives from any negligent and/or any acts of omission or commission that may result in any accident / cause damage either to the entrapped passengers or to the property. KONE shall not be held responsible for any consequences arising out of rescue undertaken by the PURCHASER or its representatives whether the rescue is happening before, during or after any training provided by KONE. PURCHASER agrees to indemnify KONE, its directors, officers, employees, agents, subcontractors, volunteers and all other persons or entities acting in any capacity on behalf of KONE against claims, demand, prosecution and/or any charge arising therefrom.

KONE shall have no liability to the PURCHASER or any third party under or in relation to this Agreement after the expiration of the defects liability/warranty period.

Where KONE and others have jointly caused the PURCHASER to suffer loss or damage under or in connection with this Agreement, KONE's liability will be limited to the extent that KONE has caused or contributed to such loss or damage. KONE will not be liable in any way for loss or damage caused by third parties.

KONE shall not be liable for any loss or damage by any reason competent personnel under our direction and supervision. KONE shall not be responsible for repairs and replacement of any parts as may be needed because of negligence, misuse or accident. In case any trouble develops between agreed periodical visits, upon PURCHASER's request, special examination will be made subject to availability of competent personnel.

All work will be performed during our regular working days except for minor emergency adjustment call back service which will be provided during regular working hours. No work or service other than that specifically mentioned is included or intended

Force Majeure

KONE shall not be liable for any loss, damage or delay due to any cause beyond KONE's reasonable control including but not limited to lack of shipping space, embargoes, acts of God, strikes, lockouts, bandh, fire, accident, explosion, theft, floods, riots, civil commotion, war, malicious mischief, enemies, terrorism, power shortage, delay in supplies of raw materials and components either at our supplier's works or at our works due to any or all of the reasons such as energy crisis, power cut, rail / road transporter's strike, go-slow, non-availability of essential raw materials (iron & steel, aluminium, copper, silver, brass, stainless steel, various alloys, electrical grade steel etc.), or act of a third party.

KONE or purchaser shall intimate, in writing, within two weeks of occurrence of the force majeure conditions as defined in the clause hereunder to the other party together with an estimate of the likely duration of the persistence of the force majeure condition

The agreed delivery times for the project may need to be extended because of delays caused by measures undertaken to stop the spreading of the Coronavirus pandemic, such as mandatory lockdowns, containment measures and transportation restrictions imposed by authorities in India and other countries, and the availability of personnel, logistics providers and supply chains, due to the pandemic.

Limitation of Liability

Notwithstanding anything contrary in this Agreement, including any indemnities, in no event shall KONE be liable to the PURCHASER or third party for any loss of profit, loss of use, loss of contracts, loss of business, loss of customers, loss of good will, contractual liabilities of others or for any indirect or consequential loss or damage, which may be suffered by the PURCHASER or such third party in connection with this Agreement. KONE shall not be liable for any expenses or repairs which are incurred by the PURCHASER without the specific written approval of KONE.

the dispute would first be attempted to be resolved by consultations between the parties. Upon failure of such mutual consultations, the dispute or difference would be referred to Arbitration of a Sole Arbitrator, to be appointed by KONE and the provisions of the Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996 shall be applicable to such Arbitration.

PURCHASER's Covenants and Obligations

The PURCHASER acknowledges and agrees that the covenants and obligations of the PURCHASER contained in this Agreement must be strictly adhered and/or fulfilled by the

of any act, neglect or default on its part or on the part of its agents, servants or workmen suffered by the PURCHASER or by any other person, irrespective of the fact that the PURCHASER or such person may raise a claim for damages or compensation, successfully or otherwise, without in any way limiting the operation of the foregoing provisions.

KONE's maximum aggregate liability under or in relation with this Contract, shall in no event, exceed an amount equal to the Contract value

Extension of Time

KONE shall be entitled to such extension of time to its time for completion as is reasonable in the circumstances in the event the works is delayed due to i) suspension of the works for reasons not attributable to KONE, ii) work by the PURCHASER or third parties not having been timely provided as agreed between the PURCHASER and KONE, iii) reasons attributable to the PURCHASER or third parties or their respective servants, agents or other contractors or sub-contractors, or iv) a force majeure event. In the event the time for completion of works is extended for reasons set out in items i)-iii) above, KONE shall be entitled to recover from the PURCHASER all substantiated costs, including but not limited to storage costs and demobilization and remobilization costs, incurred by KONE as a result of such extension of time.

Intellectual Property Rights

Notwithstanding anything contrary contained in this Contract, KONE shall retain title and ownership of all intellectual property rights relating (whether directly or indirectly) to the Equipment provided by KONE, including but not limited to software, firmware, drawings, technical documentation or other technical information delivered under this Contract. The PURCHASER shall not use or copy any drawings, technical documentation or other technical information supplied by or on behalf of KONE for any purposes other than those directly related to the Contract or to the use and maintenance of the Equipment.

KONE grants the PURCHASER a non-exclusive and non-transferable license and right to use the software and firmware delivered with or related to the Equipment in connection with the use and maintenance of the Equipment. Health and Safety Policy Statement

KONE mission

At KONE, our mission is to improve the flow of urban life. We understand People Flow in and between buildings, making people's journeys safe, convenient and reliable.

Safety objectives

Safety is our top priority. Every day, in every part of our organization we work toward our goal of zero injuries. We understand why and how to act safely looking after each other and proactively encouraging safe practices.

Our safety objectives are to:

- Have all of our employees, partners and users of our equipment return home safe every day.
- Continually improve our health and safety performance.
- Be the benchmark for health and safety in our industry.

Safety commitment

We design our solutions and processes to enable us to conduct our business in a safe and sustainable manner and consistently apply the KONE safety management system in all our activities.

Complying with the laws and regulations of the societies and other requirements in which we operate is the starting point for our business operations. We take pride in the fact that in many cases our own safety standards and management processes are stricter than legal requirements.

At KONE, we are all personally responsible and accountable for making sure that both ourselves and others affected by our work are safe. We must follow work procedures and methods, and report incidents and near misses promptly. Everyone at KONE is required to assess the safety of the tasks at hand and has the duty and authority to stop work if unsafe, to ask for support, or take the necessary actions to continue the job safely.

All KONE leaders are responsible for providing their teams with the necessary means for working safely. They have to lead by example, make sure their people are consulted, able to participate and trained, ensure accountability and drive for safety improvements.

KONE management is committed to taking ownership of and being accountable for KONE's health and safety policy.
