Colours Unlimited

Finding the right shades to colour your world is a journey – let Colour Cosmos help you navigate 75 years of alchemy at Asian Paints.

Our most extensive range yet is divided into three distinct palettes: Whites, Chromatics and, for the first time ever, Colours of India, a palette inspired by this vibrant land.

Cosmos Guide

Each page has shades of a single colour, arranged from light to dark.When fanned out, you can see individual colour families from all three palettes – swivel and tuck, till you find your combination.

Use the viewfinder to see the shade in isolation when making the final selection – it helps eliminate the impact of adjacent colours.

Remember, while Colour Cosmos strives to show you the truest colour possible, colours on the wall tend to appear darker or lighter than the swatch. Hold the swatch upright rather than flat on a table, for a better idea.

New AP Code

Every Asian Paints colour has a unique code, made up of four critical colour factors. Let's decode one for you:

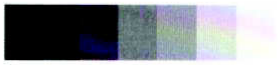

AP R 0296 - 4252 M

AP	R 0296	42	52	M
ASIAN PAINTS	FAMILY	HUE	CHROMA	LIGHTNESS	SHEEN

Hue (0-3599)
Hue denotes the colour family a shade belongs to and where it falls on the colour wheel.

Lightness (0-99)
A measure of the lightness or darkness of a shade – the lower the value, the darker the colour.

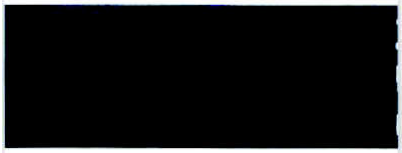

Chroma (0-99)
Chroma is the pure intensity of colour – the higher the value, the more intense the colour.

Sheen
From Flat to High Gloss, Sheen level tells you how glossy or matte a colour is.

Colours Unlimited

Finding the right shades to colour your world is a journey – let Colour Cosmos help you navigate 75 years of alchemy at Asian Paints.

Our most extensive range yet is divided into three distinct palettes: Whites, Chromatics and, for the first time ever, Colours of India, a palette inspired by this vibrant land.

Cosmos Guide

Each page has shades of a single colour, arranged from light to dark.When fanned out, you can see individual colour families from all three palettes – swivel and tuck, till you find your combination.

Use the viewfinder to see the shade in isolation when making the final selection – it helps eliminate the impact of adjacent colours.

Remember, while Colour Cosmos strives to show you the truest colour possible, colours on the wall tend to appear darker or lighter than the swatch. Hold the swatch upright rather than flat on a table, for a better idea.

New AP Code

Every Asian Paints colour has a unique code, made up of four critical colour factors. Let's decode one for you:

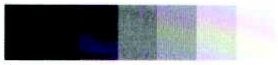

AP R 0296 - 4252 M

AP	R 0296	42	52	M
ASIAN PAINTS	FAMILY	HUE	CHROMA	LIGHTNESS	SHEEN

Hue (0-3599)
Hue denotes the colour family a shade belongs to and where it falls on the colour wheel.

Lightness (0-99)
A measure of the lightness or darkness of a shade – the lower the value, the darker the colour.

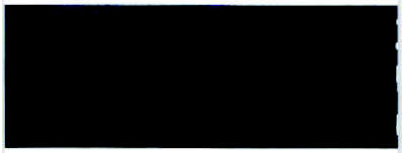

Chroma (0-99)
Chroma is the pure intensity of colour – the higher the value, the more intense the colour.

Sheen
From Flat to High Gloss, Sheen level tells you how glossy or matte a colour is.
